
Right
of access to information in Mexico:
a diagnosis by society

Mexico

Right of access to information in Mexico:

a diagnosis by society

Instituto Federal de Acceso a la Información Pública (IFAI)
Av. México 151, Col. Del Carmen Coyoacán, C.P. 04100, Delegación Coyoacán, México, D.F.
First Edition, IFAI
ISBN: 968-5954-12-7

Printed in Mexico
Free distribution

Responsible of the translation: International Affairs Department

TABLE OF CONTENTS

| | |
|--|----|
| Introduction. Access to public information; a useful instrument for an organized society , by C. María Marván Laborde | 5 |
| The controversy around right to information: The case of “ Alianza Cívica ” and the presidency of Ernesto Zedillo. Short chronicle of the citizen program “Adopt an Officer”, by Alianza Cívica | 9 |
| Diagnosis on Access to Environmental Information in Mexico. An overview of the last years by “Acceso México” – “Mexico Access” | 21 |
| Citizens claim for transparency and accountability: Experience in public resources deviation monitoring by Equidad de Género, Ciudadanía, Trabajo y Familia | 35 |
| Two citizen experiences from the local environment in government transparency matters , by Municipal Service Center “Heriberto Jara” | 47 |
| Federal Law of Transparency and Access to Government Public Information compelled subjects, after one year of operation , by Fundar, Centro de Análisis e Investigación | 65 |
| Transparency, democracy and citizen participation in legislative actions. The case of the LX Legislature of Chihuahua , by Red Ciudadana | 87 |

Note:

The opinions included in these works are under the exclusive responsibility of their authors.

This book was printed on January, 2005
Print Order: 2,000 copies

Edited by:
Dirección General de Atención a la Sociedad y Relaciones Institucionales Dirección General de Comunicación Social

